PERSONAL PROFILE

I am an easy-going, curious art director always looking for new projects to evolve. I have been a full time art director and photographer for almost a decade and am fully self-taught. My educational background is within the realm of science, and I defended my PhD-thesis in 2005. While working on my thesis I started various projects, mostly within the field of graphic design, but also in music and as a concert and club promotor. I have published a photo book with concert photos and held several photo exhibitions. Since the summer of 2007 I have been working for a small publishing house with full responsibility for all graphic aspects of the firm, from producing and delivering two monthly magazines in the music technology and broadcast field, to develop the conceptual profiles used for all international editions of the magazines, as well as being in charge of all external projects, like catalogues, banners, flyers etc.
